Perfect for kids in the preschool age. It;h1>AIDS... I mean aide people in trouble<h1/>

Buying this game for my 3 year old was a great idea, but the game does have it's flaws. Besides being mind numbing easy, the only voice you'll hear throughout the game is Ryders, and missions are incredibly repetitive. I feel that this game is a glorified phone game.

Missions goes as follows:

There is a problem and the pups are assembled and selected to solve it. First thing you'll notice is that Tracker and Everest are with the other pups climbing to tower. Once Ryder makes his selection of 4 pups you control 2 of them and call the other two when the time is right.

In the missions you move your pup from left to right collecting dog treats and golden paw prints.... and fix barricades. Sometimes you'll take to the sky or plunge under water but it really doesn't do a good job breaking up the monotony. That's it... if you get all treats (200) and golden paw prints (5) you get a picture and eventually unlock trophies/achievements/steamchievemnts/milestones. The last one is what nintendo should call their achievements should ever they start having them.

So, great for kids, and on steam is like $30 CAD so like $5 US. Totally worth it if you have kids playing on your pc. If not and you are fully grown and wanted to play this game...sorry to dissappoint but it's not really good and is in the top 5 of ♥♥♥♥♥ kids games based on a show.

I'd complain or comment on other aspects, however I don't feel the need to bring them up since it's geared for kids and does the job...but the animation is sub par, the lac of voice acting is a let down and the attention to detail is lazy at best. so like the 2k wrestling games...

for kids 4/5 slushes, for everyone else 2/10 evil exs'.. Great game for toddlers, teaches them basic game controls without game over screens.. I bought this game for my kids (4 + 7) because a friend recommended it to me. My kids don't have any active video game experience so far. They were absolutely gleeming when they realised that they can play with their favorite heroes. However, after one hour of gaming they already got bored out by the ever repeatative levels and challenges.

There's actually not much to achieve (at least not in the first five levels) and even my 4 year old girl was irritated over the fact that she was very limited in her actions.

The levels are not very lovingly designed and offer little interesting. After only two levels, my big one has had enough of the fact that she has to do everything over and over again with each of the appearing heroes.

My conclusion: This game is absolutely not worth 30,- EUR.

5~10,- EUR would be fine. But I would expect a lot than copy and paste game.

Also: The game is advertised to be available in 8 languages. BUT you cannot switch languages manually! If you happen to have an english system you are in-game bound to the system language (english) even though your kids don't speak english. So the supposedly available 8 languages are actually misleading.. My 5 year old and 6 year old play this game. Very easy to use. Annoying that even though we play on desktop the game keeps saying move your 'joystick'... what f joystick??? Is a keyboard!!! :) girls are having fun so all good. Could do with a bit more challenges.. A mentally challenged monkey could finish this game. Yes I AM aware that this is a game for young kids but this game treats them like 5 year olds are ♥♥♥♥♥♥♥♥ and brainless without a shorterm memory. My son got bored by this and got back to Super Mario Odyssey which he already finished by himself. (no not all of it, but the main story)

Dear developers, kids are up for something more challenging than just pressing right and jump. and you don't need to explain EVERY SINGLE thing ALL THE FREAKING TIME!

It's a pity, really, because from a technical point of view this is a well made product. The visuals are nice and the controls work well.

. Pros:

- its paw-fect!
- Solid story, very story driven
- Goes well with a meme playlist
- Joddy 2.0 is not annoying as he could be
- Was blown away by the powerfull abilities

Cons:

- its paw-fect! (loves a good pun this game, the same one that is)
- Needs more levels
- Some of the treats are very well hidden
- A lot of pawt holes(huehuehue), everyone one of them could have ben saved with Skye and her copter
- Needs more diversity in puns (pawlease)
- Got a stomach ache from all the treats

Overall

A mind numbing experience for all ages, hopefully you add lootboxes for cosmetic collars.
